Carrot Crunch Taste Test

25 seconds | 5 activities | Real phone-video look | 9:16 Reel

VIDEO IDEA

Testing if he likes carrots: waiting at the sink, the first suspicious sniff, crunching it on the rug, choosing between baby carrots and a big one and begging for more.

TIMELINE

0-5s	Waiting at the sink
5-10s	First sniff
10-15s	Rug crunch
15-20s	Baby or big
20-25s	Begging for more

FULL 25-SECOND PROMPT (only if your tool can make 25s in one go)

A 25-second shot on an iPhone held by the owner, vertical 9:16, 1x lens, handheld with small natural shakes, auto-exposure and autofocus, real-time speed with no slow motion, available natural light only, no color grading, ordinary lived-in home, normal phone video quality - looks like an unedited home video posted on Facebook. The dog is a real adult male German Shepherd with a black saddle, tan legs and tan face, slightly darker muzzle, upright ears, wearing a worn brown leather collar with a small metal tag, natural slightly messy coat with a little loose fur on the shoulders. It shows 5 short everyday moments joined with simple hard cuts. 0-5s (Waiting at the sink): Kitchen, midday, plain daylight from the window over the sink, white cabinets, beige tile floor. The owner's hands rinse a whole orange carrot under the tap. The dog sits right behind the owner's legs, watching the carrot closely, nose working, tail sweeping the tiles. Sound: running water, tail swishing, owner saying "want to try one?". 5-10s (First sniff): Same kitchen, midday daylight, beige tile floor. The owner crouches and holds out the washed carrot. The dog sniffs the tip carefully, licks it once, pulls back with a puzzled look, then sniffs again and gently takes it between its front teeth. Sound: sniffing, a quiet lick, owner laughing "it's not going to bite you". 10-15s (Rug crunch): Living room, afternoon daylight from a window, a worn brown area rug on wood floors. The dog lies on the rug holding the carrot upright between its front paws and crunches off big pieces, little orange bits scattering on the rug around it. Sound: very loud crunching, owner saying "I guess that's a yes". 15-20s (Baby or big): Back deck, overcast afternoon, grey weathered deck boards and a wooden railing. The owner places three baby carrots and one big carrot on the deck boards. The dog sniffs the baby carrots, then ignores them, grabs the big carrot and walks off with it proudly. Sound: birds, tags jingling, owner laughing "of course the big one". 20-25s (Begging for more): Kitchen, late afternoon daylight, beige tile floor, the bag of carrots on the counter. The dog sits in front of the owner and places one front paw on the owner's knee, then puts it down and lifts it again, staring up at the counter and back at the camera. Sound: soft whine, owner saying "okay, one more".

AVOID / NEGATIVE PROMPT (paste into the negative box, or add "Avoid: ..." at the end) cinematic, slow motion, lens flare, golden glow, dramatic lighting, studio lighting, color grading, film look, perfect shiny fur, glowing eyes, human-like facial expressions, smooth drone or gimbal movement, background music, text, subtitles, watermark, extra legs, extra tail, morphing, warped paws, plastic-looking skin or fur

HOW TO MAKE IT LOOK REAL

Use a real photo	Biggest realism boost: use Image-to-Video and upload the same real German Shepherd photo for every clip. Same photo = same dog in all 5 clips.
Make 5 short clips	Generate each clip (5 seconds) separately with its own prompt, then join them in CapCut with simple hard cuts. If your tool can make 25 seconds at once, use the full 25s prompt instead.
Pick the most natural	Generate 2-3 versions of each clip and keep the one where the dog moves most naturally. Delete any clip with weird legs, tail or face.
Keep the real sound	Keep the natural sounds (paws, tags, panting, owner's voice). If you add a trending Facebook sound, keep it quiet underneath.
No filters	Do not add filters, slow motion or fancy transitions - real home videos don't have them.
