Teaching My German Shepherd New Tricks

25 seconds | 5 activities | Real phone-video look | 9:16 Reel

VIDEO IDEA

A short training session in the living room: a focused sit, shake paw, down, a spin, and a not-quite-perfect play dead with a wagging tail.

TIMELINE

0-5s	Focused sit
5-10s	Shake paw
10-15s	Lying down
15-20s	Full spin
20-25s	Play dead attempt

FULL 25-SECOND PROMPT (only if your tool can make 25s in one go)

A 25-second shot on an iPhone held by the owner, vertical 9:16, 1x lens, handheld with small natural shakes, auto-exposure and autofocus, real-time speed with no slow motion, available natural light only, no color grading, ordinary lived-in home, normal phone video quality - looks like an unedited home video posted on Facebook. The dog is a real adult male German Shepherd with a black saddle, tan legs and tan face, slightly darker muzzle, upright ears, wearing a worn brown leather collar with a small metal tag, natural slightly messy coat with a little loose fur on the shoulders. It shows 5 short everyday moments joined with simple hard cuts. 0-5s (Focused sit): Living room, mid-afternoon, daylight from a big window, worn brown rug on a wooden floor, a couch in the background. The dog sits upright on the rug, eyes locked on the owner's hand held just above its head with a small treat, holding perfectly still except for its twitching nose. Sound: quiet house, owner says "wait... wait". 5-10s (Shake paw): Same living room, afternoon window light. The owner's open palm appears in front of the dog. The dog lifts its right front paw and places it in the owner's hand, then gently takes the small treat offered with the other hand. Sound: owner says "shake... good boy!", chewing. 10-15s (Lying down): Same brown rug, afternoon daylight. The owner's hand moves down toward the floor. The dog follows the hand with its nose and lowers itself into a down position, front legs stretched out on the rug, looking up at the camera for its reward. Sound: owner says "down", tags clinking on the floor. 15-20s (Full spin): Same living room, afternoon daylight from the window. The dog stands on the rug and follows the owner's circling hand, turning in one full circle on the spot, then stops facing the camera with its tail wagging and mouth open. Sound: paws on the rug, owner cheering "yes!". 20-25s (Play dead attempt): Same rug, afternoon window light. The owner points a finger at the dog. The dog flops down onto its side, but its tail keeps thumping the rug and it keeps lifting its head to check if a treat is coming. Sound: tail thumping, owner laughing "you're supposed to stay still".

AVOID / NEGATIVE PROMPT (paste into the negative box, or add "Avoid: ..." at the end) cinematic, slow motion, lens flare, golden glow, dramatic lighting, studio lighting, color grading, film look, perfect shiny fur, glowing eyes, human-like facial expressions, smooth drone or gimbal movement, background music, text, subtitles, watermark, extra legs, extra tail, morphing, warped paws, plastic-looking skin or fur

CLIP-BY-CLIP PROMPTS (recommended)

Make each clip separately, then join them in order. Every prompt already includes the same dog and camera wording.

FACEBOOK CAPTION

Day four of teaching him to play dead.
He's got the flop down. The staying still part, not so much.

HOW TO MAKE IT LOOK REAL

Use a real photo	Biggest realism boost: use Image-to-Video and upload the same real German Shepherd photo for every clip. Same photo = same dog in all 5 clips.
Make 5 short clips	Generate each clip (5 seconds) separately with its own prompt, then join them in CapCut with simple hard cuts. If your tool can make 25 seconds at once, use the full 25s prompt instead.
Pick the most natural	Generate 2-3 versions of each clip and keep the one where the dog moves most naturally. Delete any clip with weird legs, tail or face.
Keep the real sound	Keep the natural sounds (paws, tags, panting, owner's voice). If you add a trending Facebook sound, keep it quiet underneath.
No filters	Do not add filters, slow motion or fancy transitions - real home videos don't have them.
